Biography

Kevin primarily concentrates his practice on commercial restructuring, bankruptcy, and real estate matters. He has extensive experience handling pre-bankruptcy counseling, bankruptcy cases, and commercial-lease negotiation, preparation, and enforcement. His practice also involves bankruptcy litigation, including preference and other avoidance actions and claim objections.

Kevin represents commercial real estate developers, trade vendors, lenders, and others in bankruptcy cases in New York State and across the country. He has been actively involved in many of the large retail cases filed during the last 35 years.
