Biography

Pranav focuses his multifaceted practice on all aspects of litigating matters involving patent infringement. He also handles related legal issues in contracts, civil procedure, brand protection, and patent and trademark prosecution. His litigation experience also includes photography and film. Pranav represents clients in state and federal courts.

Pranav has a background in music, which allows him to connect with artists and other creative individuals to assist them in achieving their intellectual property goals, encouraging them to create and innovate by protecting their works through their intellectual property rights. Similarly, Pranav's chemical engineering degree and work experience give him a unique understanding and appreciation of inventors' need for patents for their intellectual property.
